Attorneys Ask New Trial For Dr. Sheppard

CLEVELAND (AP)—Judge Edward Blythin today took under advisement a motion for a new trial by Dr. Samuel Sheppard, convicted of second degree murder last week in the July 4 bludgeoning of his pregnant wife, Marilyn.

The motion cited 41 errors which defense attorneys said were made during the trial of the handsome, Bay Village osteopath.

Another part of the same motion was filed today, a week after the original petition. In the new request, Sheppard's attorneys said they have "newly discovered evidence now known and not available to the defendant at the time of his trial."

Judge Blythin said he would hold a separate hearing Jan. 8 on that part of the motion. The attorneys did not specify what new evidence was discovered.

Sheppard has been sentenced to life in prison. Unless the jury verdict is upset, it will be 10 years before he is eligible for parole.

Sheppard appeared sleepy but confident as he was led into the courtroom, handcuffed to a deputy sheriff.

State Promotes Sale Of Apples

LANSING (AP)—The state plans to spend $5,000 to promote the sale of Michigan apples, the Agriculture Department said today.

Joe E. Wells, administrative assistant, said much of Michigan's 1954 apple crop is still in storage.

"October rains caused the crop to ripen too fast," he said. "Apples don't seem to be selling because they're too pale."

The 1954 crop was estimated at 5,650,000 bushels, Wells said, as of Dec. 1 some 2½ million bushels were still in storage.

Wells said he would attend a meeting in Grand Rapids Monday with the advertising agency for the Apple Storage Commission to plan an advertising campaign.

Most of the advertising, he said, would be placed in bakers' trade journals on the theory that more of the apples can be sold to commercial bakers than to housewives.

Lawmaker Wins Seat With Flip Of Coin

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Abraham Sigman won a seat in the Pennsylvania House of Representatives by the flip of a coin and drawing the right number from a pouch.

Republican Sigman and his Democratic opponent, incumbent Alphonso Parlante, each pulled 9,824 votes.

However, both stipulated the right to appeal and Parlante immediately announced he would take the matter before the Democratic-controlled state House next month.

Swiss Smuggler Held

LUINO, Italy (AP)—Customs police noticed the car of Guglielmo Inderbrinz, 43, a Swiss citizen, seemed to be riding heavily. They looked under the seats and found more than half a ton of silver and 277 Swiss watches. He was held for investigation.

Junk Mail Deliveries Will Cease March 31

WASHINGTON (AP)—Postmaster General Summerfield announced today that city and town deliveries of "junk mail" will be discontinued after March 31, 1955.

Such deliveries of what the Post Office Department calls "simplified address mail" were established on an experimental basis 15 months ago. The system allowed distribution on selected routes of advertising material addressed simply to "householder," "patron," or "boxholder," without specific street address.

The experiment, which had been tried previously by the Democratic administration, resulted in numerous protests that the result clogged the postal system.

Rep. Murray (D-Tenn.), who is slated to become chairman of the House Post Office Committee in the new Congress assembling next week, said recently he had told Summerfield that unless "junk mail" deliveries were stopped, his committee would take steps to outlaw it.

Sen. Carlson (R-Kan.), retiring chairman of the Senate Post Office Committee, only a few days ago issued a public statement calling for discontinuance.

The dropping of the simplified address mail, which is handled at a third-class rate of 1½ cents per piece, applies only to city and village delivery routes. Such mail will still be handled on rural routes and to boxholders at post offices where no city or village delivery service is available.

This type of patron has had the service since October 1934.

Summerfield in a statement said simplified address mail was extended to city and village routes in August 1953, in an effort to reduce large third-class mail losses "and to provide an additional service to the public." One hope was that elimination of the job of sorting large bulk mailings would produce big savings.

"The results have not satisfactorily met these objectives and the only possible solution is increased postage rates which will be sought in the next session of the Congress," Summerfield said.

Under a practice established 20 years ago, the mailers of circulars or other similar material may still obtain city or village delivery of 1½ cent items addressed simply to "occupant" — but each item must include an exact street address.

Postmaster General James Farley attempted to extend the non-addressed mail to city deliveries early in the Roosevelt administration but gave up the experiment after a brief trial.

Freed On Bail, Husband Kills 3

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Mrs. Richard Mulloy said her husband threatened death for her family if he went to jail on a battery charge. He was released on bail and Wednesday night killed Mrs. Mulloy's mother and sister and then himself, officers said.

Sheriff's Capt. Tom Howard reported: Mulloy, 52, shot his mother-in-law Mrs. Nora Wyatt through a window. His wife Betty, sleeping on a couch, was not shot.

Mulloy then drove 3½ miles and fatally wounded Mrs. Mabel Neighbors, 31, Mrs. Wyatt's daughter, in her home. He drove a block further, got out of his car and turned his 12-gauge double-barreled shotgun on himself.

Mulloy had been arrested earlier Wednesday on a wife-beating charge but was released on $250 bond. He accused Mrs. Neighbors of attempting to break up his marriage, Mrs. Mulloy said.

Tough Job Faces UN Secretary

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Dag Hammarskjöld leaves today for the toughest assignment ever handed a U. N. secretary general—seeking the release of 11 U. S. fliers and other U. N. personnel imprisoned by Communist China. Hammarskjöld will fly first to London, leaving there Saturday for New Delhi, where he will confer with Indian Prime Minister Nehru. He expects to arrive in Peiping Jan. 4 or 5 for his talks with Chinese Premier Chou En-lai.

The conference is sponsored by Michigan State College, the University of Michigan and the Michigan College of Mining and Technology. It is open to the public.

Whisky-Pickled Rattler Bites

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A Texas rattlesnake immersed in whisky bit the hand of Chin Toy, 55, who was trying to pickle the snake for medicinal purposes.

Toy explained at Harbor Emergency Hospital Wednesday he was preparing a potion according to an ancient Chinese recipe that would be valuable in curing any number of ailments.

Major ingredients of the recipe were a bottle of whisky and a live rattlesnake, both of which Toy poured into a crock and covered with a lid. When he looked in to see how his mixture was coming along, the snake bit him on the finger.

Fortunately the rattler's fangs had been removed. Toy was treated for a cut finger and sent home.

McCarthy Gives Notice He Won't Sit Back In '55

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.), having dominated the news for much of 1954, wouldn't let the old year pass without a few more words and a promise of plenty to come in 1955.

After his attack on President Eisenhower Dec. 7 it seemed for a while he might sign off for the rest of the year. At least he had nothing else to say for almost three weeks. This week he made up for lost time.

Still Fighting Reds

The general line he took in several statements wasn't exactly new: he wants this country to cut off aid to countries which trade with Red China. He had said the same thing before, more than a year ago.

But, judging from what he said, he may also have been giving a preview of the course he'll take in 1955. He may be shifting from fighting communism at home to fighting it abroad, although he could combine both.

There had been speculation after the Senate condemned him for some of his conduct Dec. 2 on what he would do next year. He had been working the fight against Communists at home steadily for four years.

There was always the chance he might become a bore if he stuck to the same line another four years, which is the amount of time he has left in the Senate before he has to face the voters again in 1958.

Lots Of Speeches

Besides in the next two years, with the Democrats running Congress and the Investigations subcommittee of which he has been chairman the past two years, his chance for making headlines will be rather diminished.

If he could find a new course, not necessarily divorced from communism, which he has made his special province, he might be able to win new public attention.

He has now said he will make a lot of speeches around the country in 1955, demanding a tougher policy toward the Chinese Communists. He could concentrate on that while at the same time taking swipes at communism at home.

If anyone, inside or outside the Eisenhower wing of the Republican party, had the notion McCarthy might retire into the background after his condemnation by the Senate and his attack on the President, he must have other ideas by now.

In a nationally broadcast reply to former President Truman, who had criticized him obliquely, McCarthy, in the fall of 1953, demanded the Eisenhower administration shut off aid to any allies trading with Red China.

Attacks Eisenhower

(This government has an embargo on all trade with Red China, but a number of friendly nations allow limited trade.)

McCarthy didn't pursue that idea very often during 1954. Most of his time was taken up with the McCarthy-Army hearings and the

French Premier Wins OK On German Arms

PARIS (AP)—The French National Assembly tonight reluctantly and narrowly approved West German rearmament. The vote was 287-260.

It ratified the treaty establishing a Western European Union as the coalition in which 12 West German divisions will join British, French, Belgian, Dutch, Luxembourg and Italian troops in defense of Europe.

This was the key point of the recent London-Paris accords. Deputies already had approved other portions of the accords.

Vote Reversed

Tonight's vote also kept Premier Pierre Mendes-France in office. He had made adoption of WEU a matter of confidence in his Cabinet. The vote completed action in the Lower House on the various treaties signed here last October.

In effect, it was a vote on the whole network of treaties. Under a "single package" proviso, if WEU had been rejected none of the other accords would have been considered ratified.

Tonight's vote reversed an Assembly decision the day before Christmas against WEU, 280-259, when it was not a confidence issue.

More Delay In Senate

All the treaties now go to the Council of the Republic, or Senate, where debate is tentatively scheduled for February.

Under a new constitutional amendment, the Senate can delay final French ratification simply by making slight changes in the various bills and sending them back to the Assembly. This could bring final passage close to the mid-May date which Mendes-France has suggested for a Big Four meeting with Soviet Russia on the German issue.

Today in the Assembly the Communists made a last minute attempt to drag out the issue.

The Assembly went almost immediately into the vote on the operative clause of the recent London-Paris accords when Assembly President Andre Le Troquer called the matter up.

Normally it takes about an hour to determine the outcome of an assembly vote.

Speeches Cut Off

There were no deputies listed to speak. When Le Troquer proposed proceeding to the vote at once, Jacques Duclos, floor leader of the Communist bloc, said he wanted to speak.

Le Troquer cut him off by saying there had already been enough speaking.

Premier Pierre Mendes-France who has made passage of this Western European Union (WEU) treaty an issue of confidence in his government, said he did not want to prevent anyone from speaking.

But Le Troquer said the regulations permitted an immediate vote without debate.

Coldest Spell Of Season Dips Into Midwest

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A blast of arctic air, fanned by brisk winds, spread across storm-swept sections of the Midwest and snow-covered areas of the Rockies today.

The coldest weather of the winter season appeared in prospect for most of the areas. It was below zero in parts of Montana and the Dakotas.

Stormy and cold weather also was the outlook for many other parts of the nation. Sleet, rain and snow pelted Northeastern sections.

Colder air dipped along the East Coast to northern Florida and into the lower Mississippi Valley.

Freezing temperatures continued to plague southern California, threatening citrus orchards.

The intense storm center which Wednesday dumped snow, sleet and freezing rain over wide areas of the mid-continent, paralyzing travel in many areas, was centered in southeastern Lower Michigan today.

The death toll from the icy, wet weather in the mid-continent mounted to at least 19.

Fresh falls of snow blanketed much of the central Mississippi Valley and the central Great Lakes region. New snow measured nearly a foot in some areas.

But as the frigid air from Montana moved into the Midwest, snow ended in the hard-hit Southwest region. However, the job of digging out of the season's biggest snowstorm continued in parts of Kansas, Texas, Missouri and Oklahoma.

Snowfalls in the Southwest, a boon to wheat farmers who called the falls a "million-dollar snow," ranged from 26 inches in Fort Scott, Kan., to 9 inches in northern Texas.

Atlantic Allies To Tighten Ties

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Democratic senators said today Congress will be asked early next year to consider a formal bid for closer ties between North Atlantic nations.

Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.), author of a 1949 resolution looking toward a convention of delegates from seven North Atlantic nations, said the "international climate" is "more favorable today than it ever has been" for closer union between this nation and its Atlantic allies.

Roundtable sessions in the afternoon will include discussions of postal rate legislation and shopper competition. Officers will be elected Saturday morning.

Budget Message To Unveil 1955 Program Jan. 17

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration was said today to be nearly ready with a request to Congress for at least three billion dollars to continue economic and military aid to friendly nations abroad.

Such an amount would be slightly more than the $2,780,000,000 Congress provided this year for grants, loans and arms shipments to more than 40 friendly governments.

Congressmen Critical

President Eisenhower probably will unveil the new program in his budget message Jan. 17. Informed officials reported government agencies have decided Congress should be asked to appropriate between 3 and 3½ billion dollars.

Any request for three billion dollars or more would certainly face critical scrutiny in Congress. Foreign aid programs have been trimmed considerably in recent years, and several key Congress members have said they will oppose any new funds for strictly economic aid.

A modest increase in Asian economic aid, however, will be sought, officials said, on the theory that it is urgent to improve living standards if the peoples there are to resist communism.

Spain Gets Big Slice

Some $1,478,000 worth of foreign aid was allocated to the Far East and Pacific nations last year but less than one third of this went for economic and technical aid. The rest was spent for military assistance to Formosa, Indochina, Korea and other nations.

Foreign aid to Western Europe, which dropped to about 25 per cent of all funds in the last program approved by Congress, is expected to remain at about the same level under present planning. Authorities said most of this money goes for special programs in Spain, Turkey, Greece and Yugoslavia. The rest of Western Europe, while scheduled to get virtually none of the new money to be sought, will continue to receive military shipments and some economic help from money previously appropriated by Congress, officials said.

Russia Will Build 1,000 Submarines

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Russia has a goal of 1,000 long range submarines to use as chief weapons for world revolution, declares a history professor of the University of California at Davis.

Dr. Walter Hucul, who has made a study of intelligence journals and Russian publications, said Wednesday that James Fighting Ships reports that Russia already has completed 400 of the subs.

Russia wants to have "Soviet subs in all the major oceans and seas where they could roam uncontested and remain free to assist in revolutionizing country after country according to the dictates and timetable of the Kremlin," Dr. Hucul told the annual meeting of the Pacific Coast branch of the American Historical Assn.

He added that it is known to United States intelligence sources that many of the 740 merchant ships flying the Panamanian flag are used as Russian merchantmen to train Soviet naval personnel in waters not familiar to them.

"Ships operating under the Panamanian flag carried arms from Czechoslovakia by way of Polish ports to Latin American countries," Dr. Hucul added. "The supply of arms to Guatemala during the recent revolution was a case in point."

NEW YORK (AP)—A 20th anniversary tribute to the Associated Press Wirephoto will be presented Sunday night on Ed Sullivan's Toast of the Town television program.

A spot news picture will be received on stage during the show, demonstrating the operation of a Photofax machine. The machine is the AP's specially designed unit to receive pictures directly off the Wirephoto network, ready for instant use.

Representing The AP on the program will be F. A. Resch, general newsphoto editor; Harold Carlson, head of The AP's engineering laboratory; Murray Becker, chief photographer; and Frank Noel and Max Desfor, both Pulitzer Prize winners for photography.

The first picture was transmitted over the AP Wirephoto network Jan. 1, 1935. It was the first leased wire circuit to transmit news pictures simultaneously to many points.

St. Paul Loop Area Jolted By Manhole Blasts

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—Subterranean blasts rocked through a 10-block area adjacent to the St. Paul Loop district Wednesday hurling steel manhole covers high into the air. There were no casualties.

Large sections of pavement were torn out and passing motorists were shaken.

One heavy manhole cover was tossed into a third floor apartment. Dr. Dave Norman, St. Paul, former police surgeon, said his car was literally "lifted into the air" when a manhole cover blew up around as he passed over it.

Fire Department officials were checking the area today for signs of escaping gas that might have found its way into underground utilities tunnels and then ignited to create a series of blasts.

Lights Extended On City Streets

The installation of six additional lights on Ludington St. from 23rd St. west was completed yesterday by city workmen, it was reported by Harvey Germanson, superintendent of the electrical department.

The lights are of a new and improved incandescent open type, set out on 14-foot brackets, Harvey explained.

A number of lights have been erected on city streets during the year to meet the needs of an extending community, it was reported. Five new units were installed on Lake Shore Road (M-35) from 23rd St. South.

Lights were also installed between 1st and 3rd Avenues; on 22nd St., and 1st Ave. S. between 23rd and 25th Streets.

Scheduled for next year is the installation of additional lighting on Ludington St. from 20th to 23rd St., a work that is expected to be financed by an appropriation in the 1955-56 budget and completed by next fall.

Piers For Straits Bridge To Be Toed In Rock By Jan. 1

ST. IGNACE (AP)—Dredge buckets plunging 200 feet to the bottom of the Straits of Mackinac to scoop clay "over-burden" off the solid rock upon which Piers 19 and 20 of the Mackinac Bridge are to rest, are now scraping the rock itself, Project Manager Grover C. Denny said Thursday.

Piers 19 and 20, most important of the entire bridge structure, are to be the huge submarine foundations atop which the bridge's 552 foot cable towers will rise.

The bottom ends of circular caissons will form the outer shell of these massive masonry pillars, are now within a few feet of solid rock. They will be "toed" into rock by Jan. 1, Denny declared.

Mud Scooped Out
The caissons are being lowered slowly through clay on the straits bottom—a relatively soft, muddy bed dozens of feet in depth. This is done simply by scooping the mud from beneath the caissons, then pumping more concrete into the area between the caissons' inner and outer shells to increase their weight and sink them lower.

Dredge buckets scraping the mud from beneath the caissons are lowered through the open area inside the caisson's inner shell. This area, itself, measures 86 feet in diameter, and ultimately will be filled with concrete.

Welded to the bottom end of each caisson are 32 V-shaped, knife-like "cutting edges" assembled to form a circle on a plane with the caisson's outer shell. Each of the 32 sections of this circular

"knife" is 24 feet deep and weighs 11 tons. Thus, a relatively sharp cutting edge weighing more than 350 tons will help the caisson crush its way into solid rock.

Caisson No. 20, northernmost of the two center span caissons, Denny said, has practically caught up with caisson No. 19. The bottom of No. 19 he said, is about 197 feet below the surface, whereas rock bottom has been shown to be at slightly more than 200 feet. Caisson No. 19's bottom is more than 192 feet below the surface. It is only a few feet from rock.

Work Conditions Miserable
Cold weather and snow, Denny said have made things miserable for the 250 men still plodding "through the clock" on the $100,000,000 bridge project, but ice conditions in the Straits "haven't even begun to threaten work stoppage." He said work on the bridge will continue "until ice drives us from the job."

The large floating concrete mixing and pumping plant is still on the job "whenever needed," Denny said. So long as this barge is able to function the task of lowering and securing the caissons can be continued.

Denny explained that securing the two main caissons for the winter-time shutdown no longer poses a problem.

"Both of these structures," he said, "now are deep enough into hard clay, and weighted enough with concrete that nothing can damage or disturb them in the least. Ice could force us off the job right this minute and no one

Science Is Able To Banish Smog

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—Science will learn how to banish smogs and air pollution, one of the four horsemen which could doom modern cities, a smog researcher predicted today.

But clean air for cities may cost as much as getting good water or good sewage disposal.

The prediction came from Lauren B. Hitchcock, president and managing director, Southern California Air Pollution Foundation, Los Angeles. He addressed the first symposium on air pollution held by the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science.

Tons Poured Into Air

In the Los Angeles Basin alone, autos, factories, rubbish burning and other operations pour 3,000 tons of "potentially significant pollutants" into the air daily, he said. That's exclusive of vast tonnages of carbon monoxide and carbon dioxide.

Some 2,000 tons come from the public, the rest from industry. Auto exhausts account for more than 1,000 tons of this; rubbish burning for 500 tons.

Air pollution is not simply a matter of coal smoke or other visible things; instead the vast quantities of invisible gaseous pollutants "constitute the major part of the problem today."

Polluted air causes smarting eyes, mental depressions, damage to clothes, paints and other troubles whose indirect costs must total hundreds of million of dollars for the nation annually, Hitchcock said. Damage to crops alone in the Los Angeles area is estimated at several millions annually.

Gasoline Wasted

Incomplete burning of gasoline probably costs each American motorist $20 a year in wasted fuel. There is conjecture that spoiled air may play a role in causing lung cancer.

Among steps to be taken, he said, are studies of the health effects of air pollutants; the chemical reactions that may be caused by sunshine on polluted air; sensitive new methods to detect tiny but bad concentrations of pollutants; the possibility of creating artificial clouds to break or dissipate the stagnating air of inversion layers; improved combustion of gasoline and other fuels; plant testing techniques—something like canaries in a mine—to warn of possibly dangerous concentrations of pollutants; coordination and centralizing all air pollution findings for benefit of all cities.

Germfask Hotel Razed In Early Morning Fire

An early morning fire of undetermined origin this morning destroyed the Germfask Hotel in Gladstone, all of the contents except mail and valuables in the postoffice, as well as the clothing of 30 hotel guests.

The 40 by 80 two story frame building was one of the oldest buildings in the Upper Peninsula. It housed 15 hotel bedrooms, dining room, bar and Germfask postoffice. At one time the building was the White hotel in Seney and later was dismantled and moved to Germfask by the late Angus McDougall.

Twenty construction workers employed by the Thornton Construction Co., working on a highway job between Germfask and Blaney, were asleep in the hotel when the fire broke out shortly after two o'clock this morning. The fire was noticed by Mrs. Clarence Nelson, who lives in a cabin across from the hotel. She aroused the guests in the hotel and all escaped.

The clothing of the 20 guests in the hotel, plus the clothing of 10 other construction workers who were away for the holidays, was lost in the fire.

Started In Oil Shed

Mrs. John Lustila, postmaster, and several volunteers removed the mail and other contents of the postoffice.

Among equipment lost in the fire, in addition to the furnishings, were supplies of beer and whiskey in the bar and new bedroom equipment only recently installed.

The fire started in an oil shed in the rear of the hotel building. Oil had been stored in the shed previously but the barrels were empty at the time of the fire.

Fire Truck Barks

Germfask Fire Department volunteers, in charge of William Caffey, concentrated their efforts to prevent the spread of the fire to nearby buildings. A strong wind was blowing at the time and flames threatened to engulf adjacent homes and cabins. The Germfask Fire Department efforts were thwarted at the outset of the fire because of a dead battery in the first engine pumper truck.

The Manistique Fire Department was called out at 2:07 a. m., but the hotel building was a mass of flames when the Manistique truck arrived.

Water from a community storage tank and the 1,000 gallon pumper of the Germfask Fire Department was used to prevent the spread of the flames.

The fire disrupted telephone service to Germfask by burning out the phone lines but a crew from the Michigan Bell Company in Escanaba was called to restore telephone service.

The loss was partially covered by insurance.

The building was owned by the Angus McDougall estate and was operated by Herbert McDougall. Mrs. Maxine Health operated the bar and Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Bessey operated the dining room.

The post office was in charge of Mrs. Lustila. The post office has moved temporarily at least to a building a half block away that formerly housed the post office.

Retirement Board Wants Judge Brennan To Give Up His Job

LANSING (AP)—The State Judges Retirement Board today refused to allow Wayne County Circuit Judge Vincent M. Brennan to withdraw his retirement application.

Arthur H. Rice of Detroit, attorney for Judge Brennan, indicated he may take the case to the State Supreme Court.

Brennan came under fire when fellow Wayne County judges accused him of excessive drinking at a Sept. 21 meeting of the judges.

On Oct. 19, Brennan submitted a formal application for retirement and enclosed a check for $900, the required deposit.

The retirement board accepted his application at a Dec. 7 meeting.

Rice said Judge Brennan will stay on the bench after Jan. 1, the effective date of his retirement, despite the board's decision. The attorney said he was sure any court action the judge takes after Saturday will be legal.

Women Loom Strong For 84th Congress

By RUTH COWAN
Newsfeatures

WASHINGTON—more women will take seats in the next Congress than ever before in the nation's history. The country can expect they will share a common interest, be they Republicans or Democrats, and that is:

How can living conditions be improved for folks generally?

It's not that men lawmakers don't have the same interest. They do, but women always speak of it—and sooner.

Just as do their brother lawmakers, the women deal with highly technical legislation for the country generally and their districts specifically, but talk to any woman in Congress five minutes about her interests and you'll hear about schools, jobs, housing, health, economy, peace.

In the old 83rd Congress there were 14 women. In the new session there will be 17—Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine); Delegate Elizabeth Farrington of Hawaii and 15 representatives, of whom nine are Democrats and six are Republicans.

Re-elected

All women members of Congress who ran for reelection won and in addition the Democrats added four new members—Mrs. Iris Blitch of Georgia; Mrs. Martha W. Griffiths of Michigan; Mrs. Coya Knutson of Minnesota; Mrs. Edith Green of Oregon.

It is difficult for a woman to get elected to Congress. In all, only 60 women have been elected or appointed to Congress since the first woman, Jeannette Rankin (R-Mont.) was elected in 1916.

But the voters, if they have elected a woman, are showing an increasing tendency to send her back to Congress. Only nine men out of 435 house members have served longer than Rep. Edith Nourse Rogers (R-Mass.) who was just reelected to her 16th term.

Michigan this next session will have two women lawmakers—Rep. Ruth Thompson, Republican, and Rep. elect Martha W. Griffiths, Democrat. Both are former judges. Also Mrs. Griffiths, Rep.

Will You Be A Traffic Statistic At The Start Of The New Year?

APPROXIMATELY 400 persons were killed in highway accidents over the Christmas weekend and more than 100 more were killed in other holiday accidents.

How many will be killed over the New Year's weekend?

In some ways the traffic death threat for the approaching weekend is even worse than last weekend. For one thing, there will almost certainly be a lot of drivers on the highways who have been doing some year-end revelry and many of them will be in various stages of intoxication. The traffic on the highways probably will not be as heavy as last weekend, however.

The worst way to start the New Year is to become involved in an automobile accident. You can avoid it, though, if you really want to do so. The surest way to avoid highway tragedy this weekend is to stay off the highways.

But if you cannot do that, you can still save your own neck by exercising extreme caution. The first rule is to drive slowly. Be on your guard every second. Be alert.

Words, Wit &amp; Wisdom

By William Morris

"My word-conscious four-year-old 'corrected' me today," writes a young Phoenix, Arizona, mother. "He told me that I shouldn't use the word 'gigantic.' He contends that the word should be 'gigantic' because it comes from 'giant.' I must say that his logic seems to me hard to refute. Can you tell me how the adjective form of this word acquired the extra 'g'?"

Your youngster surely sounds like one of the whiz kids of his generation, madam, if he is paying such close attention to word forms at his early age. However, as not infrequently happens, his basic premise is faulty, since the trouble arises not from "gigantic" acquiring an extra "g" but from "giant" losing a "g" it once had—and which "gigantic" still retains.

Both words, obviously, come from the same root—the Greek "gigas," meaning giant. But along the way, through Latin, Old French, Norman French and Middle English, the more commonly used word "giant" lost the second "g," while the infrequently heard adjective form retained it.

Better keep a close eye on that lad of yours, Madam. If you're not careful he may end up, some 30 years hence, writing a column on words!

Some time ago we mentioned the word "tiglon"—the offspring of the union of a tiger and a lion—which a news magazine had used as an example of a legendary beast like the unicorn and hippogriff of folklore. We pointed out that until recently a tiglon had been on display—very much alive—at New York's Central Park Zoo.

Now a Wisconsin reader sends along a color photo of a similar crossbreed now living at the Salt Lake City Zoo. Not content with the designation "tiglon," though, the Utah Zoo keepers came up with a new coinage. Their animal is proudly labeled "Shasta the Liger."

Try And Stop Me By BENNETT CERF

Benjamin had never been on a horse in his life, but he was darned if he was going to let the stable master know that on the first day of his vacation... So off he cantered on a nag looking unconcerned as you please. He did fine, too, till he tried to stop the horse. It paid no attention to him whatever. When it finally trotted into the stable of its own accord, Benjamin was sore as a boil. "This confounded creature absolutely refuses to stop when I tell him to," he hollered. "I want my money back."

"I'm a very busy man," replied the stable master, "and I have no time to listen to your tale of whoa."

The Doctor Says...

Bed Rest, Injections Can Be Helpful to 'Milk Leg' Victim

By EDWIN P. JORDAN M. D. — Written for NEA Service

Miss W., among others, has inquired recently concerning the condition known as phlebitis. She has had trouble with this, she adds, for over 30 years and is in constant pain. Other correspondents have asked about thrombophlebitis and about milk leg which are related conditions.

It seems best first to explain what these conditions are. Phlebitis is an inflammation of the inside lining of the veins. This may be associated with blood clots inside these blood vessels in which case the condition is called thrombophlebitis. Milk leg (called also phlegmasia alba dolens) is a phlebitis of a particular vein (the femoral) of the leg which causes a whitish swelling of that limb.

WHAT CAUSES THESE conditions? They may follow a blow or some other injury. Sometimes they develop after an infection, an operation, or childbirth. At times they start in without any obvious cause at all. They can arise with surprising suddenness or develop gradually.

Most cases of phlebitis or thrombophlebitis are rather acute at the start. As in any other acute illness, therefore, rest in bed is desirable. If the inflammation involves a leg vein, the leg is generally raised and heat is applied, all of these measures being aimed at reducing the inflammation and aiding the circulation. Other methods—such as injections—have been reported favorable. Sometimes such treatment is enough and rapid and complete recovery takes place. Annoying as acute phlebitis is at the time it is not much of a problem as the chronic condition which often seems to go on interminably.

IT IS ABOUT the chronic variety such as in Miss W.'s case, the most who write to me are particularly concerned. Although a difficult problem at best, treatment is constantly improving. For example the sulfa drugs and penicillin or its relatives are often found helpful. In addition it is always necessary to search for sources of infection in such places as the teeth or tonsils. Small doses of X-rays are sometimes used. Surgery has possibilities as it may be advisable to tie or remove the inflamed vein.

PREVENTION is even more important than treatment. Here real progress has been made and many of those who would have had this trouble a few years ago are now spared by such measures as early rising after operation and the giving of germ killers before an operation which formerly carried special risks in this direction. Phlebitis and its relatives will probably be less common in the future.

Today And Tomorrow

By WALTER LIPPMAN

The President has chosen as his first important business with the new Congress: the issue on which the Eisenhower Republicans and the Democrats are in the fullest agreement. The issue is the liberalization of international trade, and the measures to promote it include renewal for these years of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act, greater simplification of the customs procedures, and tax reduction to encourage American corporations to invest capital abroad. There was a majority for these measures in the old Congress. But the control of the committees by the Old Guard made it impossible for this majority to express itself. The committees have now come under the control of the Democrats who favor the program, and it can, therefore, be brought out and voted.

Inasmuch as nothing in politics succeeds like success, the President has been very well advised to make this easy and quick demonstration of his real working majority. In giving priority to the trade program, the President is emphasizing the change which has occurred in the political situation as a result of the election. For this program which now has priority is the very program which failed in the last Congress—not because the country was against it, not because the majority of Congress was against it, but only because the Legislative machinery of Congress was controlled by the opponents of the program. Since they are no longer in control, the blockade of the policy has been lifted.

The trade program is, we must admit, a ready-made subject for the new coalition to work with. The trade program has been investigated, debated, enacted, negotiated, and administered for over twenty years and there is nothing, or nearly nothing, new or surprising that can now be said for or against it. Almost all of the Democrats and a good half of the Republicans in the Senate are familiar with it and are convinced of it and are committed to it.

CONSIDERABLE DEBATE

There are not many other big issues where the same measure of agreement, the same degree of familiarity, holds true. There agreement will have to be reached by consultation and debate within the coalition. That will be necessary even on subjects like the national defense and the maintenance of our alliances, where in fact there is wide and fundamental agreement.

Let us hope that an agreed policy can be worked out within the coalition before the whole field of defense and foreign policy becomes envenomed by a "great debate" about "co-existence" and about whether to revolutionize our strategic plans and about whether to change our allies and about whether to become psychologically fiercer. No doubt we are going to have to have this great debate. But it will do less damage if the coalition has worked out its own common position.

This is by no means impossible. Among well informed and realistic men the choices in foreign policy are narrow. We have no choice but to be armed so that there is undeniably and unmistakably a balance of power which makes war an unprofitable gamble. The area of debate about national defense is whether the expenditures should be 10 per cent more or less, and to which services increases or cuts should be allocated. We have no choice but to maintain and promote our main alliances. For there are no other allies to be had but the allies we have. We have no choice but to go on co-existing, as we have for thirty-seven years, with the Soviet Union, not imagining that this is a true peace and not supposing that a better peace could be had by setting the world on fire.

PARTY PROSPECTS IN 1956

There is much talk about how coalition politics will affect Republican and Democratic party prospects in 1956. This is an interesting speculation. But at this date it is really a parlor game. For nothing serious and practical can be done about it at this time one way or the other. The compelling fact is that the Democrats and the Eisenhower Republican must collaborate. While no one can know who will get the most ultimate political benefit out of this collaboration, what is certain is that the first to show signs of wishing not to collaborate will suffer enormous damage.

The Eisenhower administration learned that the hard way. It was almost on the rocks last year when the President was still trying to work with his opponents rather than with the real majority who agree with him. And if the Democrats were to obstruct or sabotage collaboration with the President, they would tear themselves apart in the process.

For the unity that has been reached within the Democratic party rests on agreements which are very similar to the agreements that must be made with Eisenhower. The Democratic party, we must not forget, is itself a coalition. It can remain united only on the same common ground where the Democrats and the Eisenhower Republicans come together. So if the Democrats made war on Eisenhower, they would promote a war among themselves.

FREEDOM MUTINY: Then seven crew members of Polish trawler made safely in Whitby, England, after staging mutiny, then flying distress signals to attract attention.

By TOM A. CULLEN

LONDON—(NEA)—Antoni Klimowicz, 24, a refugee Pole, is a nobody. At least the masters of Red Poland would consider him as such—a human cipher marked expendable.

Yet, in order to rescue this "nobody" from a Polish freighter, where he had stowed away from Poland and was being held prisoner—

Eighty London cops slugged it out with the ship's Communist crew.

A British destroyer was ordered to stand by.

The Lord Chief Justice was routed out of bed to issue a writ of habeas corpus.

The telephone wires between Scotland Yard, the Home Office and the Admiralty were kept white hot.

Prime Minister Churchill, week-ending at his country home was contacted to give his consent to "Operation Snatch."

Then, at midnight, a few minutes before the Polish freighter was due to sail with Klimowicz as a prisoner, 80 policemen boarded the ship to serve the habeas corpus writ on its captain. They were met by a fusillade of garbage from the ship's Commies. Buckets of boiling water were hurled at the cops.

Minus the fanfare of British law and order, scenes similar to this are being enacted in ports all over Britain. Polish seamen are turning British docks into a battleground of freedom. Hardly a month passes without some hairbreadth escape that makes Hollywood film-stuff look silly.

Seven of them mutiny on a Polish fishing trawler, lock the captain in a toilet, make a dash for freedom to the port of Whitby.

Three more Poles escape from another fishing trawler on a four-foot square hatch cover, are washed ashore near Newcastle. They had been warned that they would be machine-gunned in the water if they tried to escape. While the "trusted" comrade assigned to guard him watches "The Phantom in Rue Morgue" in a British movie house a steward from the Polish liner Batory gives him the slip, takes the freedom train to London.

He is the twelfth man to "jump" the Batory in a British port. The Batory, which smuggled Red Stogie Gerhard Eisler out of the U. S., has been black-listed in U. S. ports. Today it loses crew members almost as fast as it can replace them.

Why do they do it? Risk their lives in escaping, leave wives and children behind them in Poland to face an uncertain future? At headquarters for the Free Poles in London, near Kensington Gardens, I talked to a number of these quiet heroes.

"Poland today is a big prison camp," one of them, a big, blond chap, told me through an interpreter. "The borders are guarded with machine guns, searchlights, barbed wire, sentries and dogs. Many are killed in trying to cross."

"Seamen have a better chance of escaping," another put in. "That's why so many Poles now try to get jobs aboard ships."

But the Polish government has taken counter-measures. The political commissars aboard Polish ships are aided by secret Red agents among the crews. The crews, themselves, are changed frequently. In Britain, they are allowed ashore only in groups of three, with a "trustworthy" comrade in charge.

I talked to Klimowicz, the stowaway for whom the entire machinery of British law was set in motion.

A thin, almost ferret-faced young man with burning brown eyes, Klimowicz gives full credit to British stevedores for saving his life.

The stevedores found him, more dead than alive, in the hold of the freighter Jaroslaw Dabrowski. He had had nothing to eat or drink for seven days.

At first, the London dock workers tried to smuggle him ashore. "As I was too weak to stand, they laid me on a loading platform and hoisted me aloft to daylight," he explains.

"For a few tantalizing seconds

EXPENDABLE: Antoni Klimowicz was considered just another human cipher by Red Poland—until he made a bold bid for freedom when ship docked in London.

I saw the quayside, the Tower of London Bridge—then the platform was lowered on deck, and the Communists pounced on me! The crane man, of course, had no way of knowing that his cargo was human, that the few feet between the ship and the dock meant the difference between freedom and slavery."

Klimowicz ultimately was saved by the 275-year-old writ of habeas corpus ("produce the body"), enacted in the reign of Charles II to ensure that men were not wrongfully imprisoned. It is the British answer to political tyranny, a typical British way of asserting that human life is sacred, and not to be tampered with.

Edson In Washington

By PETER EDSON

(NEA Washington Correspondent)

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—There are plenty of good fights on the winter sports card of the 84th Congress. It may produce nothing as rough or as long-drawn-out as the McCarthy bout of the past year. But for good clean political "rasslin" matches, the next session will be anything but dull. Many of these bouts may start slowly over relatively minor issues. But these preliminaries are only curtain-raisers to battles royal that will grow out of them.

For instance: Foreign affairs are supposed to be nonpartisan and noncontroversial. Hanging fire as unfinished business before the Senate, ratification of the Manila agreement on Southeast Asia defense, the mutual assistance pact with Formosa and the Paris agreements for admission of Germany to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

All these treaties should be approved as a matter of routine business. But they open up the much larger question of foreign aid. And a brawl can be started on this subject any time.

LAST YEAR CONGRESS RECOMMENDED that plans be made for liquidation of the Foreign Operations Administration. Its authority expires by law June 30, 1955. But a new and possibly expanded aid-for-Asia program is being prepared for submission to the new Congress. The odds against a victory for this plan are tremendous.

Another example is provided by the reciprocal trade agreements program. The law expires next June 12, after a one-year extension approved by the last Congress. In going after a three-year extension or permanent authority to continue its provisions, the Eisenhower administration must present a completely coordinated program of foreign economic policy. Full congressional hearings must be held this year. And bitter battles reminiscent of the old tariff wars must be fought to get this program adopted.

National defense fights are expected to take up a good bit of time in the new Congress. The draft law expires next June 30. A simple extension under present terms might not be too hard to pass.

But in taking up this subject, the Congress must explore the new Department of Defense manpower and reserve policy. This calls for universal military training as originally conceived, but for something akin to it. And that means a war of words.

IF THE NEW RESERVE PROGRAM should be put into effect, it will mean cutting down on the size of the regular armed forces. That will tap another hornet's nest. For the Democrats have been critical of the Republican administration's curtailment of defense spending—particularly on the Air Force. So the whole question of the military budget and military policy must be explored.

Along with this and the consideration of the foreign military assistance program, Sen. William F. Knowland (R., Calif.) may have a chance to get in his suggested complete reappraisal of American foreign policy. The Democrats would probably help him.

On the domestic front, labor legislation is always good for a hassle and next year should be no exception, with the Democrats again in control of Congress. It will be a three-phase battle at least Phase I—Whether or not to revise the Taft-Hartley labor law. Phase II—Whether or not to raise the minimum wage above the present 75-cents-an-hour level. Phase III—Whether to increase unemployment insurance payments and broaden coverage.

Sparked by a certain fight over the Dixon-Yates contract to let a private utility supply power to the Tennessee Valley Authority, the vast subject of national water policy is due for an airing.

A SPECIAL TASK FORCE under ex-President Herbert Hoover's Commission on Reorganization of Government will submit its report on this subject early next year. At stake here is the problem of how big or how small the federal government's role should be in public power and reclamation developments.

Trying to make the Post Office Department self-supporting by raising postal rates enough to cover mail handling costs will bring the usual resistance from pressure groups that want subsidized service.

No matter how this fight comes out—the measure has always been defeated in the past—there will be the usual demand to raise the pay of postal workers and all other government employees. This year they may get it including a whopping big raise for congressmen themselves, and federal judges.

There is never a dull moment in sight for the New Year in Washington.

Vast New Changes In Social Security Take Effect Jan. 1

WASHINGTON (AP)—Increased retirement and death benefits are provided all along the line under the vast new changes in the social security law.

Some of these changes already have taken effect, many others are effective this Saturday, Jan. 1 and still others will not reach full effect until 1956 or later.

Here is a summary of some of the most important of these provisions:

BENEFITS AND TAXES

The new law increases benefits in three ways:

First, after 18 months coverage after June 1933, up to five years of lowest income may be dropped in figuring average monthly income under the system. Since benefits are based on average income, this in effect provides bigger benefits.

Second, the new law raises the annual income base, on which benefits are figured and taxes are paid, from the present maximum of $3,600 to $4,200 a year.

This will provide bigger benefits in upper income brackets. It also means that workers making $4,200 or more will pay $12 a year more in social security taxes at their 2 per cent rate. Their employers will pay the same increase. And many self-employed persons will pay $18 a year more in taxes, at their 3 per cent rate.

Third, the new law establishes a new formula on which benefits are based.

For a single retired worker, monthly benefits will be 55 per cent of the first $110 of average monthly earnings plus 20 per cent of the remainder, up to the new maximum base of $350 monthly. The old law paid out 55 per cent of the first $100, plus 15 per cent of the remainder up to the old base of $300.

Benefits for wives, widows and children are a percentage of the benefit earned by the worker. So they will go up too, under the new formula.

The minimum for all beneficiaries—retired workers or survivors—is raised from $25 to $30 monthly. The maximum for a single retired worker is raised from $85 to $108.50; for a retired worker and his wife from $127.50 to $162.80, and for an entire family from $168.80 to $200.

Except for a family, none of the maximums will be reached, however, until a worker has been covered by the new formula for 18 months. The formula went into effect in September. So the new maximums can be reached in 1956 or later.

RETIREMENT TEST

Under the old law, a person from 65 to 75 lost his social security benefit for any month in which he earned $75 or more. At 75 or over, a person got full benefits regardless of earnings.

The new law, first, lowers the exempt age to 72. And those between 65 and 72 may draw all their social security benefits if they earn $1,200 a year or less, on an annual basis. Thus a person could earn $400 a month for three months and still not leave any retirement benefits.

Further, the new law says a person working every month will lose only one month's benefit for each $80 earned above $1,200 a year. So a "retired" person may earn $1,280 a year and lose only one month's benefit, or up to $2,080 and lose 11 months benefits. Above $2,080, he is not eligible for benefits.

However, you can't lose your benefits for any months in which

Algae Turn Air Into Fertilizer

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—Air can be turned into fertilizer by magical little algae, raising the prospect of growing food crops without soil, a scientist reported.

Algae are one-celled plants which grow in water. One type of algae now is found to have great ability to take nitrogen out of the air and make it available for growing crops.

This is the main thing that fertilizers do—supply nitrogen for growing crops.

The first success in growing rice plants using nitrogen grabbed from the air by the algae was described to the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science by Dr. Daniel I. Arnon, department of plant nutrition, University of California.

The finding offers a cheap, effective way of fertilizing various food crops. It could be of immense significance, especially in the hungry Orient.

ONE-DAY PRESIDENT

Sen. David Atchison served as President of the United States for one day when Zachary Taylor, who was to be inaugurated, did not arrive in Washington in time to take oath of office privately on March 4th, which fell on Sunday. Taylor was inaugurated on Monday, March 5, 1849.

A CALAMITOUS LEAD

The lead that West chose for "safety" in the following case cost his side no fewer than four tricks.

North dealer.

Both sides vulnerable.

♠ 5	♥ AK73	♦ A64	♣ 9862
♠ A10	♥ QJ104	♦ KJ98	♣ AQ10
♠ KQJ	♥ 93	♦ 9862	♣ 75
♠ N	♥ W	♦ E	♣ S
♠ 87642	♥ 5	♦ 1032	♣ K754

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1♥	Pass	1♠	Double
Pass	Pass	Pass	Pass

Discussing the hand later, East said that he had been tempted to bid a spade over North's one heart and he had congratulated himself on his own "self-restraint" when he heard South bid the spade. (Obviously, no great self-restraint was involved—East was substantially short of a sound overcall.)

North, for his part, said that he had considered bidding two diamonds over West's double, but it had seemed best to await developments. For one thing, he could not pessimistically assume that East would pass the double for a penalty; for another, if East did, South might well be able to take care of himself.

Actually, of course, South was in the greatest danger when he elected to stand pat at one spade doubled, but simply because West lost an outstanding opportunity on the opening lead, South did very well. West opened the heart queen, Dummy's ace won and South discarded a diamond on the heart king. He then ruffed a heart, finessed to the diamond queen, ruffed dummy's last heart, went back to the diamond ace and ruffed a diamond—all this while the defenders were helplessly following suit. Thus, South had seven tricks home, fulfilling the contract, before he surrendered the lead.

Now observe what would have happened if West had laid down the ace and ten of trumps as he so decidedly should have done. East would overtake the ten and draw all of South's trumps, then lead a club. From that point, merely by playing with reasonable skill the defenders would find it easy to hold declarer to two heart tricks and one diamond, and so would collect an 1100-point penalty!

Starling Cry Record Gets Wrong Results

OMAHA (AP)—The city fathers had a recorded cry of a starling in distress placed in the Municipal Stadium with the idea it would rid the place of sparrows. It didn't do the job.

But Mrs. Robert Sisteck of the mayor's office said it did:

Frighten the animals in the city zoo a few blocks away.

Gave the jitters to the caged feathered pets of numerous residents of the vicinity.

Bring a flood of angry calls from the residents.

The record is still at the park but it's cry is still.

With New Shapes Or Old, Girls Are Still Girls

By VIVIAN BROWN

AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

Throw away the crystal ball, the Ouija board and the witchin' wheel. Predict anything you like about the 1955 woman. What's more, it probably will come true.

It seems as though no two people ever agree when it comes to foretelling the future of women in the world of glamor. That seems pretty logical, considering that no woman can predict today what she is going to do tomorrow, anyway.

"Today she may be dizzy about long painted fingernails and waist-length hair, tomorrow — who knows — she may cut both. Take the new flat look. How many girls are running around screaming 'look, no bosom,' just because Mr. Dior introduced his H-line?"

The man in the street won't buy fashion and beauty edicts. Especially when HIS WOMAN is involved. Let the others shave their hair and flatten their bosoms with upholstery tape if they like. But not his girl. And men do exert some influence on their sweetie pies. As calendar girl artist Rolf Armstrong says:

"The average man is not interested in the gaunt body with a crew haircut. Men like luscious curves. Anybody who doesn't believe that should notice how all eyes trail Italian girls."

The dark-eyed beauties may be over-endowed bosom-wise by American standards. But they manage to win beauty honors on any American male jury. They do not, however, always win approval of fashion trend setters.

Models Look Better

Fashion model agent Eileen Ford says:

"I am the scourge of America. I am against the bosom. That's my business. Fashion models wear clothes better than bosomy types. I'll stack any of my flat-chested models against the most voluptuous Hollywood star you can name. And you'll agree my girls look better in clothes."

"Who cares?" said one male when told of her challenge, and he double-dared her to put her flat-chested girls in bathing suits.

One woman who should know figure problems is New York corseteer Ruth Merzon who has made a career of padding the unendowed and tapering the overendowed. Says she:

Women will never accept these silly fashion ideas. Not to mention the harm that may be done to the bosom by flattening it, this new Dior look pushes the bosom upward and what's attractive about that 'spill-over' line?"

Hair Short

Beautician Helena Rubinstein sees the 1955 girl as "romantic but not fluffy, straight but not flat, slimmer, taller, more feminine, slightly less rounded — but not the flat Dior look which is 'just headlines.'"

She predicts that hair will stay short and smooth, as longer hair has not been a successful experiment. Color hair streaks will be very popular along with vivid pink makeup and strong eye accents.

To give your Venetian blinds a bath when they need it, fill the bathtub about two-thirds full of warm sudsy water. Lift the blinds in and out of the water until they're clean; use a soft brush or sponge on any particularly soiled spots. Rinse the blinds in clear water, hang them full length to drain, then wipe them dry. A weight at the bottom of the blinds while the tapes are still damp, will help to keep the tapes from shrinking.

Will Consider Rezoning Later

Public hearing on rezoning of a part of the Assessor's Plat scheduled to be held at the regular meeting of the City Commission this week was continued to the first meeting in January in order to give the zoning board a chance to meet with the commission and make known their general plans for the entire city and that area in particular.

Certification has been made to the city by Pfeifer and Schulz, electrical engineers who designed the electric generating plant under construction here, that the building had been closed in by Dec. 13 in the manner intended by contract and recommended that the contractors, Champion, Inc., be released from the penalty clause. This was approved.

Also approved was an additional $291 in wiring cost occasioned by the need for additional or different wiring that planned by the engineers because the Upper Michigan Power and Light Co., will use a different regulator than that considered by the engineers when doing the designing.

Payment to the Elliott Company of an additional 25 per cent of the cost of two condensers was deferred pending approval of the engineers.

Champion, Inc., also requested release of part of their surety and this matter was also passed by as the engineers must approve such a request and so recommend to the commission.

Income Tax Revision Will Benefit Farmer

WASHINGTON (AP)—One major change and many minor revisions in the federal personal income tax law will benefit the American farmer.

And, like the rest of us, he will be helped by 14 other changes—all of them in favor of the taxpayer—which were written into the law by the 83rd Congress.

But deadlines come earlier for farm income, and at least one decision must be made by Jan. 15.

Report Complicated
Every citizen, or resident, of the United States who in 1954 had $600 total income, $1,200 in the case of those 65 years or older, must file an income tax return. That applies to children as well as adults.

The one major change which applies particularly to the farmer is a provision under which soil and water conservation expenses can be deducted from the farmer's taxable income. Under the old code, the farmer could get tax benefit for such expenditures only when he sold his improved land.

The farmer's income tax report can get pretty complicated. During tax payment time, the revenue service spots as many of its personnel about the country as it can as free tax counselors. They can be located through your local bank, post office or county agent.

Booklet For Sale
The revenue service has mailed everyone who filed a 1953 farmer's income tax report the special forms for farmers for 1954. With the forms comes an instruction booklet. In addition the revenue service has on sale, for 25 cents at post offices and banks, a plain-English booklet called "Your Federal Income Tax." This has a special 10-page section for farmers.

The farmer may use only Form 1040, either as a short form or long form.

Here is how dates for filing work under the new law: 1. The farmer who has not estimated his 1954 tax, and has not made quarterly payments, or the farmer who wishes to skip the

Jan. 15, 1955, payment on his estimated 1954 tax, must file the final 1954 tax return, Form 1040, and pay up in full by Jan. 31, 1955.

2. The farmer who has followed the estimating procedure, and makes the Jan. 15, 1955, quarterly payment of his estimated tax liability, has until April 15 to file his final return, and make any further payment required by his actual income.

The farmer who decides to file a declaration of estimated tax for 1955 and pay his estimated tax in four installments must get his declaration into the director's office by April 15, 1955. The first quarterly payment is also due no later than April 15. The other three payments on the estimated tax (all must be equal quarters) will be due June 15 and Sept. 15, 1955, and Jan. 15, 1956.

Exemptions In 3 Classes

The farmer's exemptions are the same as for other taxpayers, and he benefits like others from new exemption provisions. One new exemption provision for students in on-farm training helps the farmer particularly.

There are three classes of exemptions—(1) for man and wife; (2) for children of the taxpayer; and (3) for dependents other than children. The instruction booklet goes exhaustively into all three classes. Each exemption sets aside $600 of your income from taxation.

The new exemption provisions are:

1. Previously a child could be claimed as an exemption only if he earned less than $600 during the tax year. The new law allows the child to be an exemption regardless of how much income he has if: (A) the child is under 19 years of age; or (B) is a student (regardless of age) at a recognized education institution or is taking on-farm training supervised by accredited schools, or on-farm training of a state or a political subdivision a county, for instance; and (C) the taxpayer pro-

1200 Children At Theatre Matinee

Approximately 1200 children attended the free matinee held this week at the Rialto theatre under sponsorship of the Empson Insurance Agency.

An all-cartoon program which included 15 special numbers was presented for the juvenile crowd. The Legion held its annual candy party at the close and the more than 1100 sacks of candy and nuts prepared for the event, usually slightly more than needed, proved not quite adequate to care for the big crowd.

vides over half the child's support.

2. The second exemption change adds two new dependents who may be claimed if they meet two other tests; receive over half their support from the taxpayer and receive less than $600 income during the year. One is for any person supported by the taxpayer, even if not related, who has his principal place of residence with the taxpayer's household (this excludes hired help). The other is for the cousin of a taxpayer when the cousin is getting institutional care for physical or mental disability and was previously a member of the taxpayer's household.

Music Festival Is Planned Here

Plans for music festivals for students in Upper Michigan Catholic schools were completed at a meeting here Wednesday of Sisters of the diocesan unit of the National Catholic Music Educators association.

The sessions were held at St. Francis de Sales school and a luncheon was served for visiting teachers. Sister Elegius, O.S.F., of Manistique, is president of the unit.

The festival for Catholic students in the Escanaba and Sault Ste. Marie deaneries will be held in Manistique. Tentatively it has been scheduled April 30, and from 500 to 600 students will be here for the event.

Plans for other festivals in Upper Michigan, including one for Marquette and Houghton deaneries at Ishpeming also were made.

Members of the music educators group are at present preparing a syllabus for use in music education in Catholic schools in Upper Michigan, and Wednesday appointed a committee to evaluate textbooks to be used. Both school and church music, as it is taught and used in school were discussed at the session here.

The next meeting of the group will be held at Ishpeming next spring.

A 16-year-old Manistique youth scheduled to appear at a hearing in juvenile court Jan. 6 on a charge of larceny, was apprehended Tuesday night by State Police after he broke into the Claudine Christensen home on U.S. 2, three miles east of Manistique.

Officers report the youth first knocked at the door to ask the location of some cabins. When he had been given the information Mrs. Christensen closed the door, and the youngster then forced it open, police said.

Officers reported he knocked over tables, ripped a telephone loose, and rifled through bureau drawers. He admitted taking $6.68 from a toy bank, which he broke, and a cigarette lighter valued at $3. The goods have been recovered.

Police previously apprehended the youth a month ago for entering a River Road home and taking $50 and some cigarettes.

When questioned by officers Wednesday, the youth said he had drunk alcoholic beverages before entering the Christensen home. Arresting officers however, said he acted intoxicated, but they could not smell liquor on his breath.

The alleged offense occurred about 6:30 p. m., Tuesday. A short time previously officers were called when the youth was reportedly driving recklessly at a motel site adjacent to the Christensen home.

Road Commission Accepts Bids On Tires, Gas, Oils

Bids on a year's supply of gasoline, motor oil, diesel fuel and lubricants and a 6-month supply of tires were accepted at a regular meeting of the Schoolcraft County Road Commission Tuesday.

Low bids were accepted in all cases except on lubricants, where separate listings were made for various types of grease, and the commission favored having an engineer's survey and recommendations on specific types to use on equipment here.

The meeting Tuesday was the last to be attended by Orley Losey, of Germfask, a member of the commission for the past six years. He is being succeeded by William N. Caffey, also of Germfask. Other members of the commission are Henry Orschel of Cooks and John Wilde of Manistique.

Street Study Will Be Made

Surveys to obtain data on traffic volume, widths and surface types of streets in Manistique will be made after the first of the year, Orson Livermore, city manager reports.

The data is needed by the Automotive Safety Foundation, which is supervising and directing an engineering study of Michigan highway and street needs for a recently-created legislative study committee, which operates through the State Highway department.

Some of the information needed is already available from previous studies made here, the manager said. High one-hour traffic counts on established arterial systems with traffic congestion are included in the studies to be made.

Also sought is an evaluation of the major thoroughfare system here, to determine its adequacy for present and future traffic. Needed additions or deletions to the present system also are to be indicated for the committee.

When the study is completed, a conference is to be arranged here with the manager, a member of the engineering staff and representatives of the state and county highway administrations, to re-

When the 1955 portion of the current high school basketball season gets under way next week, only nine Upper Peninsula teams will boast unblemished records. Only Rock and Gwinn, both Class D teams, are undefeated from this neck of the woods. . . . Others who maintained a perfect record in the 1954 portion of the season are Sault Ste. Marie and Iron River in Class B, Houghton, Ontonagon and Rudyard in Class C, and Mass and J. D. Pierce of Marquette in Class D.

Escanaba cage fans will have another trip on tap to open the new schedule after the first of the year. . . . Coach Jim Betsch's Eskymos will play their fifth away game in six starts on Jan. 7. . . . But it will be a comparatively short "trip" to Gladstone. . . . Holy Name also resumes action on the road, traveling to L'Anse Saturday night, Jan. 8. . . . It will be an overnight trip for Coach Tom St. Germain's Crusaders.

Reports from Marquette indicate that Doug Peterson, well-known as an Escanaba hockey, baseball and softball athlete, will soon desert the bachelor ranks. . . . Doug, now a student at Marquette Northern Michigan College, has been playing with the Marquette Sentinels this season.

When the Detroit Lions fell (and what a flop) before the Cleveland Browns Sunday they missed a chance to equal a National Football League record held by the Green Bay Packers. . . . The Packers are the only team in pro football ever to win three successive championships. . . . They turned the trick in the glory days of 1929-30-31, before the modern system of a playoff between the Eastern and Western Division champs for the world title.

Weldon Olson of Marquette, senior center on Michigan State's hockey team, scored a 100-foot goal recently as the Spartans handed Colorado College its first Western Intercollegiate League defeat, 4-2. . . . The goal came when Colorado pulled its goalie in the final two minutes in an attempt to overcome a Spartan 3-2 lead.

Hawks Get Ready For Opening Hockey Game

Eager for their first home game after two rebuffs by the weatherman, the Escanaba Hawks will practice tonight, tomorrow afternoon and again Sunday afternoon in preparation for the Portage Lake Pioneer invasion next Tuesday night. . . . The opening faceoff will be at 8:15 in the exhibition building at the U. P. state fairgrounds. Matt Pavelich, of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., brother of Marty Pavelich, veteran forward of the Detroit Red Wings, will officiate.

Rose Bowl Rule May Be Junked Next Year

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP) — The California Legislature will be asked to put the heat on the ruling which prevents a team from playing two successive times in the New Year's Rose Bowl game. . . . Under the rule, UCLA, the top team of the Pacific Coast Conference, cannot play against Ohio State, winner of the Big Ten crown, Saturday because UCLA played in the Bowl last year.

Thus Ohio meets Southern California, runner-up to UCLA. . . . State Senator James E. Cunningham says he will introduce legislation at the session opening next Monday that would prevent state supported schools (UCLA and the University of California) from being parties to any future Big Ten-Pacific Coast Conference agreement that outlaws a football team playing two years in succession in the Rose Bowl.

Olympic Stars To Race Today

CHICAGO (AP) — Some of the nation's brightest Olympic hopefuls will show their wares today and tonight in the University of Chicago Track Club Holiday Meet. . . . In all, more than 140 athletes from 23 colleges and two athletic clubs are entered.

They include impressive foreign stars such as Eeles Landstrom, European pole vault champion now a freshman at the University of Michigan. One of his rivals will be Dale Foster of Illinois, the Big Ten's co-champion last year. . . . Fast company is promised in the high jump, with the entrants including Mark Smith of Wayne University, 1953 national collegiate co-champion; Mark Booth, Michigan's Big Ten champion, and Dick Richardson of Bradley, co-champ of the Chicago meet last year.

Old Rivals To Meet On Court

QUINCY, Ill. (AP) — St. Ambrose College of Davenport, Iowa, and Western Illinois of Macomb, who played a six-overtime game the last time they met, will get together again tonight for the championship of the Quincy Invitational Basketball Tournament. . . . In their recent meeting at Macomb, Western Illinois came out of the sixth overtime on top 58-57. . . . St. Ambrose earned its final berth in a hair-raising 76-75 squeak past Illinois Normal Wednesday night. Jim Wolf's field goal with a minute and a half left to play put St. Ambrose ahead and in position to stall the rest of the way.

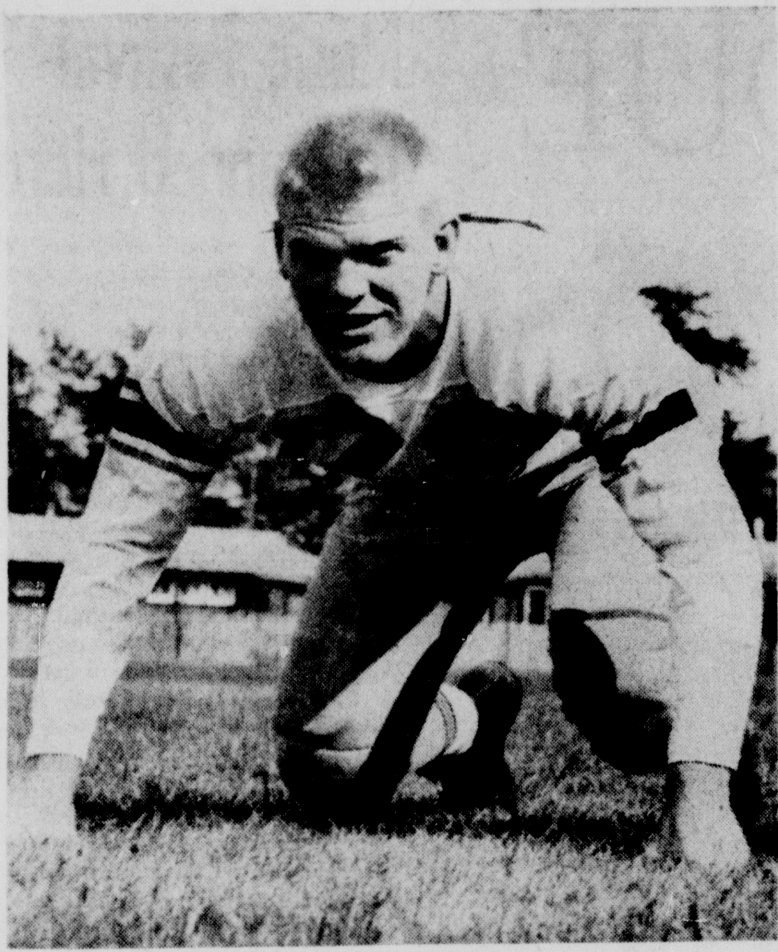

Bob Cannady propelled St. Ambrose with 29 points. . . . Western Illinois had an easier time in the semi-finals, whipping Quincy College 97-84. The winners led all the way after breaking an 11-11 tie at the six-minute mark. Quincy's Ed Crenshaw prevented a rout by pouring in 34 points, 27 of them in the second half. Marsh Stoner led Western Illinois with 21. . . . Kirkville, Mo., State and Illinois Wesleyan will meet tonight for the consolation honors.

Glen Newton, with 22 points, paced Illinois Wesleyan to an easy 85-68 victory over Monmouth Wednesday night. . . . Kirkville defeated Loras of Dubuque, Iowa, 72-62. But Loras' Cy Potts topped Jack Beck of Kirkville 24-20 in a duel for individual scoring honors.

Andrews Puts Boardwalk Billy Out Of Business

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Cold, methodical Paul Andrews earned a light heavyweight title fight with a spectacular sixth-round technical knockout of Boardwalk Billy Smith Wednesday night, but his new trainer Joe Louis says he isn't ready for it. . . . "He's got to learn up here," the former heavyweight champion said, pointing to his head. "Paul needs a lot more work experience before he'll be ready for a champion like Archie Moore."

Andrews broke Smith's eight-fight winning streak with a smashing victory in 2:49 of the sixth round. The 24-year-old Buffalo, N. Y., fighter flattened Smith three times before Referee Eddie Coachman halted the slaughter. . . . Andrews gave full credit to Louis. It was his 29th victory in 33 professional fights. . . . Andrews, fifth-ranking contender in the division, fought much like the old Louis as he shuffled and dead-panned, driving home punches so devastating that once Smith

Nyquist Gets Little All-America Mention As Tech Grid Star

Jim Nyquist, a regular four-year veteran on the Michigan Tech football team at Houghton and Co-captain of the 1954 team, has been selected on the Little All-American Honorable Mention list, as featured by the Williamson Features Syndicate, Inc., of Texas, and announced by Tech Sports Publicist Rene E. Adams. . . . Jim, a senior in Civil Engineering, was a regular tackle for Coach Al Bovard the past four years. His first two seasons found

Few Casualties For Rose Bowl

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Ohio State and Southern California started tapering off today for Saturday's 41st Rose Bowl game. . . . Coach Jess Hill of the Trojans and Woody Hayes of Ohio's Big Ten and national champs said they would field practically full-strength clubs.

Only casualty on the Trojan squad is second-string end Chuck Leimbach, 6-5 sophomore, who has been abed three days with a virus infection.

Hubert Bobo, Ohio State's sophomore fullback, is still favoring an injured leg, and his No. 1 replacement, Jack Gibbs, is minus a half-dozen teeth lost in Monday's workout. Howard (Hopalong) Cassidy, All-America halfback, is expected to be at top speed although he's missed the week's contact work because of a touchy rib.

Southern California, with a 9-2 record in the Rose Bowl — and the only coast conference club to win there in the past 12 years — is a 13-point underdog.

Western Conference teams have won seven of the last eight. . . . The Rose Bowl foes met three mutual opponents this year, Ohio piling up a 61-20 point margin in defeating Pittsburgh, Northwestern and California. The Trojans built a 68-41 edge in wins over the same trio.

Trains, planes, buses and private cars bearing some 12,500 Ohio State fans poured into town. Among them were the wives of 11 Ohio players, alumni and the 140-piece Buckeye band.

While playing for the Cincinnati Redlegs in 1949, Walker Cooper made six hits in seven times at bat during one game. Three of the hits were homers.

An offensive battle is expected from such versatile backfields as Billy Hooper, Del Shofner, L. G. DuPre and Allen Jones of Baylor; Duquesne, Iowa, 72-62. But Loras' Cy Potts topped Jack Beck of Kirkville 24-20 in a duel for individual scoring honors.

La Salle Is Ready To Drop Cage Big-Time After Gola

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Ken Loeffler is the coach of La Salle College, the defending NCAA champion. He also is the coach of Tom Gola, who can defend and offend opponents with more grace than any college basketball player we've seen come along in years. . . . So, it came as a shock, at first, to hear the lecture this successful big-time coach was giving anybody who dared to listen at Madison Square Garden.

"We're going to drop right out of the big leagues after this season," Loeffler said. "Once Gola graduates, we're going to play teams in the lower rankings. We're not going after a Kentucky or a Duquesne any more. We're thinking of limiting ourselves to one scholarship for basketball."

Sports Roundup

Rocky Marciano spends so little time in his new home in Brooklyn he hasn't even bothered to install a telephone. . . . As The Rock was about to leave for Miami and the opening of his new restaurant, he told us, "I understand it's a real big place."

The only thing keeping Georgia Tech assistant Ray Graves from shifting to Tennessee is that as long as Gen. Bob Neyland is around, the Vols won't desert the single wing. . . .

The inside reason Allie Reynolds may come back for a final fling with the Yankees is that he wants to remain active as a player and player representative until an equitable player pension plan is worked out. . . . Only his physical condition and a desire to spend more time with his family could dissuade him. . . . His oil and cattle interests can be handled in his absence.

How different basketball history might have been if the Fort Wayne Zollners hadn't hesitated to pay $10,000 for big George Mikan in 1946. . . . The deal was killed while they were making up their minds. . . .

Tom Gola has a special incentive this year. . . . La Salle's all-everything basketballer is engaged to Caroline Norris of Washington. . . . the same Caroline who became the teasing chant of George Washington students when the Explorers played in the Capital a year ago. . . . They plan to be married June 25. . . . He'd also like to jack up his weight, which has slipped to 202 under the stress of a full 40 minutes each game. . . .

Andy Phillip, a pre-war member of Illinois' famed Whiz Kids, as still called "Whiz" by Fort Wayne teammates. . . .

There was once a time Bob Pettit balked at going out for his Baton Rouge High team because he felt he was too "gooey and tall." . . . He has done more since to create interest in the game of basketball throughout Louisiana than any other individual—or team, for that matter. . . . and was a straight B student at Louisiana State. . . . Coach Harry Rabenhorst got on him only once during his college days—for passing off instead of shooting. . . . The 6-9 Milwaukee rookie's favorite diversion—jitterbugging. . . .

Six years ago his college coach told a pro basketball scout he wouldn't recommend Jack Coleman because of his disposition. . . . and for six years Coleman has been a solid man of the NBA with Rochester. . . .

"Paul Likins is the brightest kid ever to play basketball," crows Coach Frank McGuire of North Carolina, with reason. . . . The Rhodes scholarship recipient is a Phi Beta Kappa who's had only one grade under A during his Chapel Hill career. . . . His 6-9 also must top his class. . . . Would you say migrating all the way from Elkhart, Ind., to North Carolina made him a "Rhodes" scholar?

Is there a track man in the country who travels in the style of Southern California high jumper Ernie Shelton? . . . He gets around town in an underslung MG. . . .

Can there be a more unknown champ than Terry Browne of Detroit? . . . who jumps barrels for his kicks. . . . and on skates, yet. . . . He's cleared 15 at a time, covering 28 feet 3 inches, or almost a couple of feet better than the track broad jump standard set by Jesse Owens. . . . Browne defends his world title Jan. 8 at Grossinger, N. Y. . . . where a fellow named Marciano gets ready for title defending. . . .

We hear that Army and Navy are interested in two or three of Fordham's abandoned gridlers. . . . The news of the grid suspension wasn't on the wire more than five minutes before the St. Benedict's College football coach was on the phone to New York making inquiries. . . .

Between you'n'me, what could be less interesting than what a major leaguer signs for on what date? . . . What else would he do for a living? . . . (NEA Feature)

Celtics Score But Can't Win

(By The Associated Press) . . . When it comes to losing high scoring games, the Boston Celtics of the National Basketball Assn. must hold some kind of record. . . . Time and again this season the Celtics have gone over 100 points only to drop the decision. Wednesday night, for example, they lost to the Minneapolis Lakers 129-118 in overtime at Hibbing, Minn.

The Lakers' score, with Slater Martin setting a personal record of 35 points, was a new high for Minneapolis.

Bob Cousery, who tied Ed Macauley for Boston scoring honors at 24 each, knotted the score at 111-111 just as the bell sounded ending the regulation game. In the overtime Martin counted seven points, Clyde Lovellette five and Whitey Skoog six.

In the other two games, Philadelphia edged Syracuse 72-70 on Neil Johnston's field goal with 10 seconds to play, and the Rochester Royals staved off a last minute New York rally to beat the Knicks 93-89.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

By The Associated Press . . . Miami — Paul Andrews, 180-lb., Buffalo, N. Y., stopped Boardwalk Billy Smith, 175, Atlantic City, 6. . . . Manila — Danny Kid, 112, Manila knocked out Vince Blake, 111, Australia, 7. (for Philippine flyweight title).

Lincoln won the title 6-0 Wednesday night from a strong Houston, Tex., team that dominated play for all but about a minute of the game. . . . But in that one minute in the third period Wayne Kubert, a 108-pound fullback, found a big hole at center and plowed straight ahead from his 28 for 64 yards to the Houston 8.

Neither before nor afterwards was Lincoln able to make eight yards in any series of downs. This time Arthur McWilliams, a 108-pound Negro speedster, made it all in one trip off tackle.

With this varied background, Loeffler believes that a pro is a pro—and a college student just that and nothing more. . . . Of all the rises and falls of collegiate athletic powers, La Salle's must rate as the all-time example of what education can do to an ambitious athletic program.

The real alarm to be sounded here is that the thing could be catching. There are an awful lot of professors connected with colleges, you know.

Gophers Nipped In Tourney Finals By North Carolina

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ
The Associated Press

Undefeated North Carolina State, collegiate basketball's second-ranking team, and unheralded Texas Christian shared the tournament spotlight today after capturing championships in a pair of holiday classics.

North Carolina State nipped Minnesota 85-84 Wednesday night to win the Dixie Classic for the fifth time in six years. Everett Case's Wolfpack extended their winning streak to 12. But it took a field goal by sophomore reserve John Maglio with nine seconds to play to pull State through after underdog Minnesota had overcome a eight-point halftime deficit.

The Gophers' Dick Garmaker, who wound up with 24 points, had put the Big Ten representatives in front 84-83 on a basket with 17 seconds to go.

Alabama Upset . . . Texas Christian, also paced by a sophomore, stunned favored Alabama 77-62 to win the Southwest Conference Tournament. Dick O'Neal, a 6-7 center, scored 24 points in the first half for the Horned Frogs and the Crimson Tide never recovered. O'Neal wound up with 30 points.

LaSalle, No. 3, and Duquesne, No. 8, were victorious in the semi-final bracket of the ECAC Holiday Festival in New York. The Philadelphia Explorers, sparked by All-America Tom Gola's 29 points, turned back 15th-ranked UCLA 85-88. A 39-point performance by Dick Rickets — including 19 of 19 free throws — featured Duquesne's 90-75 rout of Dayton, No. 4.

Two other members of the top

10 breezed to victories in tournament play. George Washington, No. 9, whipped William and Mary 87-73 in the semifinals of the Richmond Invitational as Corky Devlin and Joe Holup scored 56 points between them. Niagara, No. 10, trounced Syracuse 91-71 in an ECAC consolation round game.

Here's the tournament situation at a glance:

Irish Cop Win . . . Sugar Bowl (New Orleans) — Notre Dame downed Loyola of New Orleans 66-45 and defending champion Holy Cross defeated Bradley 89-81 in first-round games. The winners meet for the title tonight.

ECAC Festival (New York) — LaSalle plays Duquesne in the finals Friday night.

Big Seven (Kansas City) — Three-time champion Kansas State coasted into the final with a 70-60 conquest of Iowa State. Kansas State will meet Missouri, 95-87 victor over Oklahoma, for the championship tonight.

Richmond Invitational — Richmond trounced Virginia Tech 84-57 and will oppose favored George Washington in the finals tonight. All-American (Owensboro, Ky.) — Defending champion Maryland disposed of Rhode Island 83-66 and will face Cincinnati, 82-62 victor over Evansville, in tonight's championship game.

Northern Division Pacific Coast Tourney (Seattle) — Washington shaded Oregon State 38-37 in overtime to win the four-team tourney.

Unbeaten Teams . . . New England Invitational (Storrs, Conn.) — Connecticut and Dartmouth, both unbeaten, tangle in then it's just human nature for the other players to resent it," Rowland said.

Kiner recently was sold to the Cleveland Indians.

Rowland strongly advocates cutting the player limit from 25 to 21 and vigorously opposes two-platooning.

Squads Too Big

"A squad of 25 not only is unnecessary but is detrimental," he says. "Fellows are sitting around not playing. They begin grumbling."

Rowland also advocates: . . . Elimination of farm systems and return to independent ownership; permission for pitchers to use the spitball and other trick deliveries ("to give them a chance against lively ball slugging"); and streamlining travel to eliminate all equipment baggage except shoes and gloves ("home clubs should provide uniforms and bats for visiting teams, solving a great baggage problem of traveling in the expanding territory of the majors.")

Wants Harmony . . . To do this, Rowland is working for harmony in the front office and for a winning spirit on the field — both of which observers believe have been lacking in the past.

A rift in the executive department reportedly developed in 1950 when Wid Matthews was brought in from the Brooklyn Dodgers organization as personnel director. . . . Jim Gallagher was shifted to general manager to business manager.

As for the team, Rowland says the Ralph Kiner deal — which he calls "an error chargeable to the front office" — hurt morale. . . . "When a player is getting the sort of money that Kiner was and performs in run-of-the-mine fashion

Graham And Perry Top Pro Gridders

By FRANK ECK

NEW YORK (AP)—Otto Graham, whose brilliant play in the Cleveland Browns' victory over the National Football League champion, and Joe Perry, ace fullback of the San Francisco 49ers, are the top men on The Associated Press 1954 all-pro football team announced today.

Graham was chosen as quarterback for the mythical 22-man two-division team for the sixth season while Perry, an all-pro in 1953 as well, was the top vote getter in the poll of AP member paper football experts and AP staff men.

The Detroit Lions, trumped 56-10 by the Browns in last Sunday's playoff, placed six men on the squad. The Browns gained three positions.

Holy Cross In Cage Bowl Bid

By ED TUNSTALL

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The classy Crusaders of Holy Cross, showing an All-America prospect in center Tommy Heinsohn, bid for their second straight Sugar Bowl basketball title tonight against Notre Dame.

Heinsohn put on one of the top scoring shows in the 17-year history of the tournament Wednesday night, producing 33 points as the Crusaders topped Bradley 89-81.

Notre Dame's big team downed sluggish Loyola of the South 66-45 to move into the finals.

The Crusaders had a 40-38 advantage at halftime, but Bradley applied pressure in the second half to close in. But Heinsohn kept Holy Cross in front with a 19-point output.

Forward Jerry Hansen of Bradley was outstanding in a losing effort, pacing the Illinois squad with 27 points, most of them on a fifty-one-hand jump shot from just outside the circle.

The free throw shooting of both teams was outstanding. Holy Cross made good on 25 of 29 while the Braves connected on 21 of 26.

The victory was the Crusaders' sixth in seven games this season.

Notre Dame, paced by guard Jack Stephens' 19 points, had an easy time with Loyola which just couldn't muster a working offense.

Sophomore John Smyth, a 225-pound rebounding ace, dominated the backboards and aided the offense with 18 points.

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP)—The University of Michigan edged the University of Pittsburgh in the Wilkes College Open Wrestling Championships Wednesday night, 63-52. Lehigh finished third with 38 points.

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP)—Defending champion June Stack of Hamtramck, Mich., and Norma Harris of Brooklyn, N.Y., met today in the finals of the National Girls Indoor Tennis Championships at Longwood Cricket Club.

Miss Stack defeated Nancy O'Connell of Chicago, 6-4, 6-3 in Wednesday's semi-finals.

Michigan Teams Take Cage Tourney Losses

HOLLAND (AP)—Michigan entries fared badly in the Holiday Cage Classic Wednesday night. Lake Forest of Illinois trounced Hope, 103-73, and Beloit of Wisconsin thumped Albion 84-62.

Tonight it will be Beloit vs. Hope and Lake Forest vs. Albion.

Little Ev Cocallas tossed in 25 points to lead the smooth Lake Forest team to victory. Teammate George Wolz contributed 20. The visitors led 54-28 at halftime.

Center Mack Stanley was high man for Beloit with 25 points while forward George Zizlamore got 19 for Albion.

Flint And Central Clash In Finals

FLINT (AP)—The host Flint Junior College team and Central Michigan meet tonight in the championship game of the Flint Collegiate Basketball Tournament.

Flint, paced by Joe Robertson's 22 points, downed Hillsdale in the opening round Wednesday night, 84-64. Guard Al Schaffer scored 18 for Hillsdale.

Bob Vander Werf with 24 points led Central Michigan to a 107-80 triumph over Lawrence Tech. Ken Morrell got 20 for the Detroit team.

Deadline Today On State Bonus

LANSING (AP)—Today is the last day that Michigan World War II veterans can claim their state bonus.

Postal applications for the bonus, on an official form, must be postmarked before midnight, Dec. 30.

The state adjutant general's office at Lansing, which handles the claims, anticipated a last minute rush and will stay open after the end of the 5 p.m. working day if veterans are still in line at that hour.

As of Dec. 24, 622,915 World War II veterans had applied for the bonus, 615,924 applications were approved and $220,091,865 was paid out.

The state has been paying out the bonuses, which average $358 a claim, since April of 1947. The bonus has been financed by the state cigarette tax.

The adjutant general's office reported that about 500 queries were received during the past two weeks after the nearing of the deadline was publicized.

Only about one per cent of the claims were bona fide, however.

"It wasn't that there was any intent to defraud," said Capt. Robert J. Baird of the military establishment. "Most of them received the bonus five or six years ago and forgot about it."

There are two exceptions to the Dec. 30 deadline. Veterans still in the service or in state or federal military hospitals will have until June 1, 1956 to file their claims.

Proud Of Middle Name—Had Eight

BOWLING GREEN, Ky. (AP)—Circuit Court Clerk S. C. Lawson has found that some people are somewhat hesitant about revealing their middle names. But he met no such hesitancy from an applicant for a driver's license.

"My full name," the applicant said, "is William Haskel Starling Cicerio James Thomas Samuel Andrew Howard Crawford."

The clerk settled for William Haskel Crawford.

Dead Body Found In Pontiac Grove

PONTIAC (AP)—An unidentified woman whose frozen body was found in an ice-pocketed picnic grove Wednesday died of pneumonia, an autopsy revealed today.

Dr. John J. Marra, who conducted the examination, said he found no signs of violence.

The report that she died of natural causes left investigators puzzled about how she got to the isolated area eight miles west of here where the body was found.

Dr. Marra said the woman had been dead two or three days. Fingerprints were sent to federal, state and local authorities in an effort to identify the body, and missing persons lists were combed.

Sheriff's officers had theorized that the woman might have been killed elsewhere and the body dumped in the wooded, swampy area.

Supporting this theory were car tracks traced to within 12 feet of where the body was found Wednesday by three rabbit hunters from the Detroit area.

The brown-haired woman was believed to be about 40, five feet, six inches tall and weighing only 90 pounds, Dr. I. C. Prevette, deputy coroner, said the only mark was a small bruise on the abdomen.

An autopsy was scheduled at Pontiac General Hospital today to determine cause of death.

The woman was well dressed, wearing a sky blue coat and a light blue suit. She was fully clothed except for one shoe found 12 feet from the body.

The coat bore a label from a Toledo, Ohio, store but Sheriff William Hirsch said a check of missing persons there revealed nothing to aid Oakland County officers.

The Luitink brothers—Johannes, 19, Herman, 26, and Fred, 16—came across the body. Herman said he stumbled over the body and thought at first it was a store dummy. Half of the face was molded into the ice.

Losses were not extensive and went to around a point at the outside. Gains usually were small but extended up to around four points in some instances.

The volume of business was moderate compared with Wednesday's huge 4,430,000 shares, greatest in four years.

Minus signs today were sprinkled liberally in the steels, motors, railroads, coppers, airlines, and chemicals.

Lowe's, Wednesday's most active issue, opened today up 1/2 and Chicago & North Western preferred was up 3/8.

U. S. government bonds moved narrowly.

Spain Educates Heir To Throne

MADRID, Spain (AP)—A government communique last night said the education of Juan Carlos, eldest son of the pretender to the Spanish throne, has been arranged "in attention to the place he occupies in the dynasty." But it gave no hint of any plans to restore the royal family.

The communique was issued after eight hours of talks Wednesday between Generalissimo Francisco Franco and Don Juan of Bourbon, Juan Carlos's father and a son of Spain's last king.

It said the two agreed that Juan Carlos, 17, should complete his education in Spain "for the best service to the nation."

Spain was officially declared a monarchy without a king in 1947 after a popular referendum gave an overwhelming majority for a return of the royal family. The Franco regime has opposed the succession of Don Juan, urging that he abdicate his claims on the throne in favor of his son.

The Franco-Don Juan talks were held at the country estate of the Count of Ruisenda, a leading monarchist, about 150 miles southwest of Madrid.

Informants said they believed Don Juan agreed to a request from Franco that he return to Spain from time to time. Don Juan lives in exile in Portugal.

The pretender maintains that he is the titular head of the Bourbons, Spain's ruling house from 1638 to 1931, since the abdication of his father, the late King Alfonso XIII, and his elder brother Don Jaime.

The Franco regime has opposed his succession to the throne on the grounds that he has been too long absent from Spain. It also objected to statements he made in the past which it said had alienated a majority of the people.

Volcano Danger Past On Stromboli Island

MESSINA, Sicily (AP)—Inhabitants of the Sicilian islands of Lipari and Stromboli and on the slopes of Mt. Etna breathed easier today as minor volcanic and earthquake activities eased after 72 anxious hours.

On the bleak island of Stromboli, lava continued to flow down the sides of the ancient volcano but it caused neither damage nor danger. The volcano's activity was decreasing steadily.

The eruption began Wednesday. Three separate shocks Wednesday shook the island's of Lipari and Salina but no damage was reported.

Woman's Upper Plate Stolen In Restaurant

BALTIMORE (AP)—"Look all the doors," Mrs. Margaret D. Eversburg, 55, screamed Wednesday night in a downtown cafeteria. "Somebody stole my teeth."

While forks paused in mid-air, Mrs. Eversburg shoved about five or six chairs against the entrance and announced to about 30 customers and the hired help: "Not one of you is leaving until I get my teeth back."

She was persuaded to desert her bastion, but she telephoned police. About 50 persons gathered on the sidewalk.

Mrs. Eversburg said she had put her $85 upper plate in a napkin before dinner. When she prepared to leave, the teeth were missing. An hour's search by police and the management failed to locate them. Mrs. Eversburg went home.

Eveland Reappointed Banking Commissioner

LANSING (AP)—Maurice C. Eveland of Mayville, was reappointed state banking commissioner by Gov. Williams today for a term expiring Dec. 31, 1956.

Eveland, born in Mayville in 1893, became vice president and manager of the Fostoria State Bank in 1913 and in 1915 became president of the Mayville State Bank. The Mayville bank weathered the 1933 bank crisis without interruption of operation.

Eveland was banking commissioner under former Gov. Murray D. Van Wagoner in 1941 and 1942 and was first appointed by Gov. Williams in 1951.

McCarthy Won't Be Quiet In 1955

Senate hearings and debate on censuring him.

On Dec. 7, five days after the Senate had condemned him, McCarthy accused Eisenhower of a "shrinking show of weakness" toward world communism.

He made this attack shortly after Eisenhower had congratulated Sen. Watkins (R-Utah), who had fought for McCarthy's censure. The President praised Watkins for his fairness.

Then McCarthy, nursing an injured elbow, disappeared on a vacation. He had nothing to say publicly until Dec. 26, when he announced a "lot of public speaking" in 1955 to force a tougher policy toward Red China. He also said he planned no further hearings on communism this year.

He followed this up in an exclusive interview with the Chicago Tribune on Dec. 27, attacking Eisenhower's advisers as the "palace guard" and saying some of the words Eisenhower spoke about him were thought up by those around him.

On Dec. 28 he reversed what he had said Dec. 26 by announcing he would hold all-day hearings Monday seeking Communists in defense plants. On Dec. 29 he returned to the theme of wanting to fight for a tougher policy toward the Chinese Reds.

Lack Of Snow Causes Utah Village Trouble

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—The Utah mountain village of Mammoth, population 150, is in trouble because it hasn't had enough snow. State Sanitary Engineer L. M.
